Managed Security Services

Logicalis Managed Security Services have been providing a range of Cloud Security services for customers for the last eight years and support over 50,000 end users across 13 countries. The dedicated team in the Security Operations Centre support customers around the world 24x7.

This team of individuals have been working together for a number of years to deliver professional security expertise when customers need it, however customers need it, in a cost effective manner.

Logicalis MSS partner with the leading cyber security vendors to deliver security solutions to customers, as a service and as a discrete solution. Whether this be a full operate, manage and support service, or to install and train customers staff on the solution. The MSS team deliver cyber security cost effectively and on time, according to the customer's agreed requirements.

The MSS team have delivered services to large sections of the NHS, the local Government, large utilities, multinational corporations and small businesses.

MSS have developed a number of discrete services that can be quickly and easily deployed for customers. The desire to always improve our services means that MSS will work with customers to understand their particular requirements and deliver flexible bespoke solutions.

To the right we have outlined the basic security offerings that MSS provide.
